Democratic Candidate Shambaugh, of Fort Wayne, Shown to Be Guilty of a Grave Offense.

STAMP THE EAGLE SQUARE

Mayor Ross, of Terre Haute, Confident of Re-Election.

Marshall, Ill., Father in Terre Haute, After His Runaway Daughter -Muncie Foundling in Luck.

This is the day for elections in all Indiana incorporated cities, excepting Indianapolis and Evansville. From reports received last night from different quarters of the State, the campaign has been the most interesting and favorable to a sweeping Republican victory of any in many years. Even Fort Wayne, with its Democratic majority of 2,300, promises to put a Republlcan in the Mayor's chair. At Anderson, Alexandria and Elwood, the three big towns of Madison county, Republicans will meet the enemy to-day with all confidence of winning. The primary elections in Kokomo, Marion, Peru, Wabash and Muncie showed that the Republican vote will be the heaviest ever known. At Greencastle, Columbus, Shelbyville, Seymour, Brazil and Terre Haute the Democratic forces were reported on the run last night, and, in fact, such is said to be the case from the lake to the Ohio.

SHAMBAUGH EXPOSED.

Fort Wayne Democratic Candidate in a Bad Fight. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., April 30 .- The most remarkable local campaign ever witnessed in this city is closing to-night and, although the Democrats have 2,300 majority in the city, the indications are that Colonel Oakley, the Republican candidate, will be elected over Shambaugh. Shambaugh has had much to handicap him from the beginning of the campaign. His majority at the primaries over Dr. Read was only 1 in a total vote of 3,500. Both Democratic papers, the Sentinel and Staats Zeitung, openly charged that Read had been defrauded out of the nomination and called on the executive branch of the centrai committee to resign. Many voters tomorrow will bolt the head of the Democratic ticket for this reason.

On Saturday it leaked out that John Fredericks, of this city, inadvertently passed a counterfeit silver dollar on Doctor Bowen, who reported the matter to Deputy United States Commissioner Leonard, and he placed the case in the hands of Deputy United States Marshal Wilkinson, with instructions to investigate it. The marshal reported to Leonard a few days after that there was nothing in the case, but it seems that Wilkinson advised Fredericks to go to Shambaugh, the candidate for Mayor, who charged him a fee of $25, and in a few days told him he had succeeded in effecting a settlement for $85. Fredericks paid the entire amount, under the impression that he had settled satisfactorily with the government. When the papers began to ventilate the matter Shambaugh sent for Fredericks and refunded the money to him, but not until the Republican committee had succeeded in getting possession of the receipt and having it photographed. To-day they scattered broadcast copies of it. Commissioner Leonard says he mailed the statements of the parties to United States Attorney Burke Saturday night. All this will not do Sham-baugh any good.

All Republicans at Terre Haute.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., April 30 .- There has not been a city election in Terre Haute in a decade which enlisted so much personal interest as the one which will be held to-morrow. This is altogether due to the personal followings of the various candidates on the several tickets in the field. No city issue is advanced, and the canvass is being made almost altogether on personal lines. City Attorney Foley and Fire Chief Kennedy are doing their best to elect five councilmen and a Democratic Mayor. This would give the Democrats, with five holdovers, control of the next Council, which will elect successors for Foley and Kennedy. Will Penn, the Democratic candidate for Mayor, is assistant paymaster of the Vandalia road, and is popular with young men. Warner, the Populist candidate for forty-eight licensed saloons and twenty Mayor, is president of the Carpenters' Union, and he believes he will receive more votes than Penn. All shrewd observers expect a big Populist vote. The Rev. Mr. Fox is the Prohibitionist candidate. Mayor Fred Ross is the Republican candidate for reelection, and his election is generally con-

Charles Balch, the Republican candidate for city treasurer, is now assistant treasurer. His opponent, George Seeman, is deputy county auditor, and has strong backing. The local brewing company is for him. The city manager of the company said: "If beer will elect Seeman, he will be elected." The Republicans are confident of securing a majority in the Council. Eleven are to be elected, the full body consisting of twenty members. Of the holdovers five are Democrats and four Republicans, but there is little doubt that the latter will elect six

The A. P. A. is taking no noticeable part in the campaign, although it is well understood that its interest is in the election of a school trustee by the new Council.

Expect Big Republican Victory. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

ELWOOD, Ind., April 30 .- Never before in the history of the city has there been such an exciting municipal campaign. Business of all kinds is almost at a standstill. and both parties are working as never before in a local campaign. The Republicans have made a splendid fight and will go to the polls to-morrow to win the election of their entire ticket. The Democratic campaign has been one of abuse and vilification. They have been and are now on the The Republicans are thoroughly organized, and the deflection of the Prohibitionists from the Democratic ranks on account of the duplicity of Burke, the Dem-ocratic candidate for Mayor, lends additional strength to the Republican candi-

HORSEWHIPPED THE TOUGH. A Father Avenges an Insult to His Daughter.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MARSHALL, Ill., April 30.-Dan Williard, a local tough recently released from a protracted sojourn in the county bastile, received a fearful horsewhipping last night on his way, which he did. Mr. Gilaspy is from a man whose daughter he had sent on made of the material to be held up una note to requesting a meeting. He would probably have been killed by the enraged father but for a laughable mishap to the father but for a laughable mishap to the latter. While pursuing Willard, showering heavy blows on him at every jump, the father's suspenders gave way, allowing his trousers to drop about his feet, throwing him headlong. Willard was terribly beaten up and has left the county.

A dispatch from Terre Haute says: James Carter, of Marshall, Ill., came here to-day to have Daniel Willard arrested for running away with his fifteen-year-old daughter. Willard has just been released daughter. Willard has just been released from jall at Marshall, where he had been confined ten months awaiting trial on a charge of highway robbery, of which he was acquitted last week. While in jail the daughter, Ora Carter, called there and made his acquaintance. The day he was released she sent him a note to meet her, which he did, and the two came to this city. She went to the home of a relative. The father was informed that no charge could be preferred against Willard, and tonight he is trying to prevail on the girl to return home with him.

ALL ABOUT A BABY. He Was Really Found on a Doorstep and Has a Bright Future.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MUNCIE, Ind., April 30 .- Saturday night some person placed a small market basket on the porch of John L. Mullin's home on Second street. Late in the night Mrs. Mullin found the basket contained a boy baby aged about three months. The little fellow had hold of the rubber hose on a nursing bottle, seemingly unconcerned whether he was taken in or left out in the rain storm that was fast approaching. In the basket were good clothes and goods to make more, a can of milk and a silver dollar. Mr. Mullin is a well-known business man who has no children, and both he and Mrs. Mullin are happy at the find, and if

Mrs. Mullin are happy at the find, and if the parents will forever keep their identity concealed that boy will be all right. Mr. Mullin says he will preserve the dollar for the boy to spend on his wedding trip and he will keep the basket for the young man's wife to go to market with. A few days since a woman in the guise of a fortune teller called at the Mullin home and among other things told Mrs. Mullin that she would soon get a gift, and if she refused it she would forever have bad fortune. It it she would forever have bad fortune. It is believed the woman was a distributing in a Petroleum Gusher. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MUNCIE, Ind., April 30.-The first oil found in Delaware county has developed in Liberty township, seven miles east of Muncie, near Selma. To-day ex-County Auditor William Murray was in Muncle with a bottle filled with the petroleum which came from a gas well near his home. The oil is of a very good grade, and, except in color, resembles coal oil. The well from which it flowed was drilled for natural gas, and a big flow was struck. Since last February it has been dripping small quantities of oil daily increasing in quantity, until it now flows about thirty barrels a day. The find has caused considerable excitement among the few who know it. There is no question in the mind of those on the inside but that a big oil field underlies the bed of gas, and a test well will be put down to the bottom. The well is located on the south-eastern edge of the Indiana gas field.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal FRANKLIN, Ind., April 30.-The Parker-McAfee trial continued to-day with no new developmen's. The State will conclude its evidence to-morrow noon. It is the general impression that the State has made strong case, although Hattie Mitchell's evidence was not what the State had expected from her. W. H. Colvin, who was on the stand to-day, made a strong witness for the State. The cross-examination by the defense was long and sharp. Colvin's evidence was much the same as in the former trial. It now looks as if the case will not go to the jury before Saturday, and possibly not by that time. Religious servces were conducted at the jail yesterday Rev. C. W. Lee and Rev. C. W. Mc-Naughton led, and Parker and McAfee appeared to be much interested in the meet ing A large number of women are attend-ing the trial each day, and the interest which was taken in the case at the start is Captured by Sheriff Moore. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

COVINGTON, Ind., April 30.-Sheriff Ambroze Moore, of this county, caught Jesse Bovee, a fugitive from justice, Sunday morning about 3 o'clock. Bovee was indicted by the grand jury of this county at the April term of court in 1893 for housebreaking and stealing, and was placed under a bond of $500, his grandfather, Jesse Mendenhall, of Hillsboro, this county, being the security. He "skipped" his bond, and ever since Sheriff Moore has been on the lookout for him. Having traced him to his old home in Hillsboro, he drove out there. surrounded Mendenhall's house and caught Bovee, forcing him to surrender at the point of a revolver while trying to escape. Bovee had said Moore should never take him unless he got the drop on him first The sheriff arrived home with Bovee yes terday morning about 8 o'clock, and has him safely lodged in jail to await the action of court. Sheriff Moore is the same person who caught the defaulting treasurer of Warren county, Augustus Cronk hite, in California some few weeks ago.

The "quart shop" men, it is claimed, have been violating the law, and seem to enjoy the same privileges entertained by the retail dealers, who pay over $400 license, while the quart-shop li cense is $25. The retail dealers have objected to this state of affairs, and several of them did not pay the city the $250 extra license and other incidental expenses, but continued to sell by the drink as of yore. On Saturday night Superintendent of Police Miller, under instructions from Mayor Brady, arrested John Stadtler, William Pash, John Heaton and George Brooks for failing to comply with the law. Their trial is set for Wednesday.

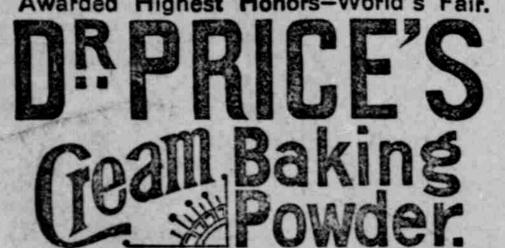

Tramp Arrested for Kidnaping.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. SEYMOUR, Ind., April 30.+A tramp umbrella repairer has been arrested near Brownstown on the charge of having kidnaped a seven-year-old son of Henry Davis last Saturday. The tramp had been loitering about the town for several days, and by telling the child fairy tales induced him to leave home. A searching party overtook them a few miles from Brownstown, and the tramp would have received rough treatment had it not been for a few cool heads the crowd. As it was, he was knocked down several times and then taken to Brownstown, where he was arraigned on charge of kidnaping before Justice. O. Lawell, who bound him over to the Circuit Court in the sum of $500. The fellow gave his name as Thomas Crowley and his residence as St. Louis. Being unable to give bond he was given a cell in the county

Deputy Sheriff Gilaspy Held Up.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. FRANKLIN, Ind., April 30 .- Deputy Sheriff Thomas Gilaspy was held up last night on his way home near Nineveh. There were two of the highwaymen, one of whom held the horse and the other proceeded to go through Mr. Gilaspy's pockets. He found nothing in them, however, as the deputy was not "flush" at that time. After threatening to kill Mr. Gilaspy, they ordered him

Terre Haute Pugilist Dead. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

MARSHALL, Ill., April 30 .- Sam Farmer, a Terre Haute pugilist of considerable local celebrity, died yesterday at the home of his wife's parents, two miles east of this city. Hill Determined to Run His Road Without Strikers.

Eugene Debs Makes a Semi-Proposa for Arbitration-Soldiers Stoned -Other Labor Matters.

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 30. - President Debs, of the Union, is more confident, and President Hill, of the Great Northern, more determined to-night than at any time since the strike began two and a half weeks ago. Mr. Debs said that he had to-day told the committee from the commercial bodies of the two cities that the employes would like to meet with Mr. Hill and talk matters over in their presence, having them act something in the way of an arbitration board. He made no formal proposition, but suggested this plan, not promising to be bound by the decision, however. When Mr. Hill was asked about it he promptly insisted that the suggestion was not a formal proposition, and that he could not consider anything until it came in a more formal way before him. He announced that he proposed to continue his work of running his road; that the old men would be ordered to work, and when one of them failed to respond promptly the place would be immediately filled by some of the large number of new men he has here and along the line ready to work. New men have been accepted to-day, and are being put in place of old men who have gone out. Mr. Hill appeared more determined to-night to run the road without the strikers than at any time since the strike was ordered, and on the other hand the Union leaders seemed nearer an arbitration than heretofore. That they should permit Mr. Debs even to suggest what was almost arbitration was a concession, and, therefore, the local business men who have been trying to settle the trouble feel more sanguine of successful ending of their labors. It looked to-day as if the majority of the brotherhood men will

The special train bearing four companies of United States troops arrived at Grand Forks, N. D., to-day, and immediately went into camp with a guard about the train. There are 201 men in the detachment under the command of Major J. H. Patterson. The companies are A, B, D and G of the Third Regiment, stationed at Fort Snelling. They have rationed for ten days and will make Grand Forks their headquarters for the present. The train met with no accident, although there were missiles thrown at several points. At St Cloud one soldier was hit in the head with a brick and another was hit in the pit of the stomach with a coupling pin. At Crookston some one fired a shot that flew wide of its mark at the engineer.

CINCINNATI, April 30.-Judge H. D. Judge Taft said the application was so late, being only one day from the day when the order went into effect, that he would not grant it now, but he held that the men were entitled to a hearing, which would be granted upon five days' notice after they have their case ready to present.

SALT LAKE, U. T. April 30 .- Mr. Carter and his band of unemployed fellowcitizens, claiming to number 550 men. left the city this afternoon. All negotiations with the Rio Grande Western railroad having failed for the time being, the journey was begun on foot. Carter made a flery speech. In substance he said the movement was the best scheme started in Utah. The cause of its birth was twenty-one years of unwise legislation. The culmination had come and disastrous results would follow unless the administration yielded to the living petition that already commenced to present itself to the authorities at Washington. Should all peaceful supplication fail to bring relief, "Then," shouted Carter, "I say to arms. We will endure tyranny no longer." Further on in his speech Carter declared: "I desire it understood we will not fail in the accomplishment of our mission. We are going to Washington, and no power on earth can stop us very long. There are five thousand men in Utah alone who would spring to arms and to our defense at a single word from Carter."

DES MOINES, Ia., April 30.-Rumors of a general tie-up of all the railroads running into Des Moines were rife to-day, and railroad officials, who have been in a state of apprehension since Kelly started from Council Bluffs, were much exercised. At the stove works camp to-day all was quiet. The men were comfortably housed and well fed, and seemed content to await developments. Mayor Hillis is reported to have said that he would go to the camp with a police magistrate, declare the army under arrest, try the men in a bunch as vagrants and sentence them to three days in jail. Then he said he would turn the papers over to the sheriff to serve, thus shifting the responsibility on to the county. Kelly declared that he would not walk out of town, and expected to have a train

DR. MEYER'S TRIAL.

Testimony Against the Alleged Poisoner -An Anonymous Letter.

NEW YORK, April 30.-Carl Muller, alias August Wimmers, was again on the witness stand in the Meyer poisoning case to-day and identified his signature to the proof of death of Gustav Baum, whom Brandt had been made to represent, repany. He had signed his name as August Wimmers. Dr. Meyer and Mrs. Meyer. or Mrs. Baum, were present and also signed the papers. He also identified the proofs of death furnished the Washington Life Insurance Company and the application for insurance made out by Brandt.

Dr. Lamon Ware, of Chicago, for thirteen years medical examiner for the Aetna Life Insurance Company, testified that a photograph of Brandt was that of a man whom he had examined in 1891 and found a good risk. Dr. John H. Byrne, medical examiner for the Washington Life Insurance Company in Chicago, and Lutillus Smith, an employe of the New York Life Insurance Company in Chicago, were also examined for the prosecution. Thomas H. Lyons, the Chicago agent of the Aetna Insurance Company, took the stand and identified Brandt's photograph. Lewis C. Penfield, of Chicago, agent of the Washington Life Insurance Company, gave similar testimony. Mr. McIntyre put in evidence the deed of assignment which Gustav Baum (Brandt) made to Mrs. Meyer. He made over the policy of insurance and surrendered his rights in her favor.

An anonymous letter was received by rendered his rights in her favor. An anonymous letter was received by Mr. McIntyre this morning and given to Mr. McIntyre this morning and given to the press for what it was worth. It is signed "An Echo," and professes to be written by one whom Dr. Meyer almost induced to enter his swindling schemes and to whom he confided his plans. It says a Dr. Flint, a traveling mesmerist, frequently operated on Mrs. Meyer, and that Dr. Meyer, under his instruction, learned to throw her into a mesmeric condition, when she would become a slave of his will. The writer argues that the woman was under Dr. Meyer's mental control when she participated in the plot. He gives the names of several Chicago crooks, who were in ticipated in the plot. He gives the names of several Chicago crooks, who were in the scheme, and who experimented with chemical solutions, which they would administer to tramps and then watch the effects. He expresses confidence that the police can lay their hands on the crooks, and that they will prove valuable witnesses, as they had strained relations with Dr. Meyer before he left Chicago. He apologizes for not coming forward, as he is not a "spotless angel," but draws the line at murder. The case will be resumed to-morrow.

TWO NOTED MEN DEAD

Ex-Postmaster - General Frank Hatton Dies at Washington,

And Senator Francis B. Stockbridge, of Michigan, Expires Suddenly at the Home of His Nephew in Chicago.

WASHINGTON April 30.-Frank Hatton died at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon. Less than a week ago-last Tuesday afternoon-Mr. Hatton, who apparently had been in good health, was sudden'y stricken with paralysis while working alone at his desk. With great difficulty, for his speech was impaired by the attack, he succeeded in summoning assistance, and was at once re-moved to his home The gravity of the case was fully realized by his friends, but some intervals of consciousness and signs of rallying, even as late as yesterday, gave hope that he might still recover. But his physicians held out little encouragement and looked for the worst. The last fatal change was manifest this morning, when the dread symptoms of Bright's disease appeared. The virus spread rapidly and soon reached the heart. There was no pain, because the faculties were deadened by the destroying agent, and at 4:30 o'clock, unconscious of the presence of his wife and son, and in spite of all that medical aid could accomplish, Mr. Hatton expired. The details of the funeral arrangements have not yet been fully completed but it is decided that the interment will be in Rock Creek Cemetery, on Thursday. At the death bed were Mrs. Hatton, Mr. Richard Hatton, the only child; Mr. and Mrs. Beriah Wilkins; Mr. John D. O'Con-Mr. Hatton's confidential secretary; Seweves, the attending physician, and the trained nurse.

Frank Hatton was born in Cambridge, O., April 28, 1846. At the outbreak of the war of the rebellion he enlisted in the Ninetyeighth Ohio Infantry and in 1864 was commissioned first lieutenant. When the war came to a close Mr. Hatton, in the town of Mount Pleasant, Ia., edited the Journal from 1869 to 1874, and then removed to Burlington, Ia., where he purchased a controlling interest in the Hawkeye, his partner being Robert J. Burdette, the humorist. Mr. Hatton's first federal office was that of postmaster at Burlington for some years prior to 1881, when President Arthur ap pointed him Assistant Postmaster-general In that capacity he served October, 1881, until October, when the retirement of Judge Gresham from the office of Postmastergeneral brought about Mr. Hatton's promo tion to a seat in the Cabinet. He continued to be Postmaster-general until the close of General Arthur's administration, and was properly proud of the fact that, with the exception of Alexander Hamilton, he was the youngest Cabinet officer in the history of the United States government. In the summer of 1885 he removed to Chicago to become editor-in-chief of the Chicago Mail. In 1888 Mr. Hatton returned to this city, and, in partnership with Beriah Wilkins, purchased the Washington Post, of which he has been editor-in-chief ever since.

Pacific coast to visit the California fair. It their intention to spend at the their nephew, and then start for the West. The Senator, however, on the day he and Mrs. Stockbridge were preparing to leave for California, was suddenly attacked with stomach troubles and later suffered with acute pains near the heart. His condition at no time was considered serious, but he was confined to his bed for a day or two, and he lost so much strength because of inability to retain much food that he decided to abandon the trip to California and return to his Michigan home as soon as his condition would permit him to travel. One week ago there was a change for the better, and the Senator and his wife began to talk about returning to Michigan, and a day was set for the return. It was, however, postponed as the Senator improved so slowly. This evening at 7 o'clock the Senator was left alone in his room with a nurse, the other members of the household being at dinner. At about 7:30 the Senator arose from his chair to walk across the room, when he was suddenly attacked with pains in his left side. He made no outcry, but with his hand clasped over his heart and his face showing that he was suffering intense pain he hastily re-turned to his chair. The nurse at once called the family from the dining room and Mrs. Stockbridge and Mrs. Houghteling were quickly at his side. Within a few seconds after they reached him the Senator became unconscious and sank rapidly. Physicians were hastily summoned and restoratives were applied, but it was of no avail. The Senator sank rapidly, and in a very short time breathed his last. While he has been very ill, it was at no time thought his condition was dangerous, and his death was entirely unlooked-for. A combination of heart and stomach troubles

Bath, Me, the city of ship-building, April 9, 1826. His father was a physician, who followed the practice of his profession fifty years at Bath. His mother was a daughter of Hon. Ben Russell, of the Boston Sentinel. At the age of sixteen Stockbridge went to Boston as a clerk, remaining five years, till 1847, when he went to Chicago and opened a lumber yard, havmills at Saugatuck, Mich.: 1850 he moved to Saugatuck and took personal charge of the mills, remaining there till 1874, when he moved to Kalamazoo, where he has since resided. In 1875 he was nominated by General Grant for minister to The Hague, but the appointment was not accepted. Mr. Stockbridge was the general choice for Governor among the Republicans of Michigan in 1884, but the expectation that the ill health of his wife would compel him to pass the period of the legislative session in a warmer climate with her was the occasion of his declining to stand for the nomination. In the senatorial contest of 1883 he was actively engaged in endeavoring to secure the re-election of Mr. Ferry. That effort was not successful, but, although the contest was a bitter one, and Mr. Stockbridge was Mr. Ferry's principal supporter, the issue of the struggle left Mr. Stockbridge in the enjoyment of the respect and good will of both factions. choice would fall on Mr. Palmer, of the east of the State, or Mr. Stockbridge, of the west. The former was successful. The turn of preference toward Mr. Stockbridge at that time led naturally to his election at the next vacancy, succeeding Hon. Omar D. Conger. He took his seat March 4, 1887,
